Analysis of a sample of the article by the Bureau of Chemistry of this department showed that the pills consisted essentially of oil of savin and ferrous sulphate and carbonate.

Misbranding of the article was alleged in the libel for the reason that the above-quoted statements regarding the curative and therapeutic effects thereof were false and fraudulent as the article contained no ingredient or combination of ingredients capable of producing the effects claimed.

On January 3, 1921, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

9776. Misbranding of Nervosex tablets. U. S. * * * v. 1 Dozen Boxes and 10 Packages * * * of * * * Nervosex Tablets. Default decrees of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction. (F. & D. Nos. 13360, 13426. I. S. Nos. 486-t, 487-t. S. Nos. C-2150, C-2287.)

On August 17, 1920, the United States attorney for the Southern District of Ohio, acting upon reports by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district libels for the seizure and condemnation of 1 dozen boxes and 10 packages, more or less, of Nervosex tablets, remaining unsold at Cincinnati and Norwood, Ohio, respectively, consigned by the United Laboratories, St. Louis, Mo., December 24, 1919, and January 22, 1920, respectively, alleging that the article had been shipped from St. Louis, Mo., and transported from the State of Missouri into the State of Ohio, and charging misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act, as amended. The article was labeled in part: (Box) "Nervosex Tablets A compound of Nerve and Muscle Stimulants for Low Vitality, Lack of Energy, Sexual Weakness * * *"

Analysis of a sample of the article by the Bureau of Chemistry of this department showed that the tablets contained, essentially, extract of plant material, including nux vomica, and compounds of iron, calcium, zinc, and phosphorus.

Misbranding of the article was alleged in substance in the libels for the reason that the box label bore the above-quoted statements regarding the curative and therapeutic effect thereof, which were false and fraudulent in that the said article contained no ingredient or combination of ingredients capable of producing the therapeutic effects claimed and in that it was insufficient of itself for the successful treatment and cure of the ailments and diseases for which it was prescribed and recommended in the said statements.

On February 19, 1921, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgments of condemnation and forfeiture were entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

C. W. PUGSLEY, Acting Secretary of Agriculture.
