

Delta, Utah, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act as amended. The article was wrapped in unlabeled parchment wrappers. The cases were labeled in part: "Butter Keep Cool ¼# Wrap Whitehead."

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that a product containing less than 80 percent by weight of milk fat had been substituted for butter, a product which should contain not less than 80 percent of milk fat as provided by the act of March 4, 1923.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the article was labeled "Butter", which was false and misleading and deceived and misled the purchaser, since it contained less than 80 percent of milk fat, and for the further reason that it was food in package form and the quantity of the contents was not plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the package.

On August 26, 1933, Whitehead Bros., Riverside, Calif., having appeared as claimant for the property and having admitted the allegations of the libel, judgment of condemnation was entered and it was ordered by the court that the product be released to the claimant under bond to be relabeled, under the supervision of this Department. It was further ordered that the product should not be disposed of in violation of the Federal Food and Drugs Act and all other laws, that bond be fixed in the sum of $100, and that claimant pay costs of the proceedings.
