

statements "Malt diastase 25.00 mg." and "with * * * Digestive Ferments," represented that the article, as a special dietary food, would supply significant amounts of malt diastase and digestive ferments to promote digestion, which statements were false and misleading since the addition of enzymes to the diet was of no value for special dietary food purposes; and 403(j)—the article purported to be and was represented as a food for special dietary uses by reason of its vitamin content and its label failed to bear, as required by regulations, a statement of the proportion of the minimum daily requirement for niacinamide supplied by such food when consumed during a period of one day.

The libel alleged also that the article was misbranded under the provisions of the law applicable to drugs as reported in notices of judgment on drugs and devices, No. 6764.

DISPOSITION: On 6-3-60, John H. Mathis, Inc., filed a claim and answer. On 5-23-61, the action came on for hearing before the court, and there was no appearance on behalf of any claimant. On 1-15-62, the article was ordered condemned and destroyed.
